Letter of Recommendation for Pierre Frossard

To Whom It May Concern

I am pleased to recommend Pierre Frossard in his application for a postgraduate course of study in international marketing/business. I have known Pierre since 2011 when he was enrolled in [name of language school]. I taught Pierre for the intensive English for Academic Purposes (EAP) course, for which he was awarded an A pass. The specialised and demanding EAP course was designed to prepare students for admittance to the [name of university]. In 2013, Pierre graduated from [university] with a Bachelor of Business.

In our earliest meetings, I became aware of Pierre's motivation to improve his spoken and written English to the point where he could pursue his academic interests at an English-speaking university. I admired his steadfast approach, and appreciated his intelligent participation in class activities. Many of these involved personal risk-taking in situations that were unfamiliar and challenging for learners of English as a second language. Pierre rose to the challenge, and in doing so displayed a calm confidence and sense of humour that were extremely valuable in encouraging his peers to join in. In this sense, his quiet and natural leadership skills were evident.

I also noticed Pierre's inherent interest in his classmates' diverse cultural and linguistic backgrounds: he would often ask his peers about various structures in their language and whether or not direct translation into their language was possible for a given structure. This demonstrated his genuine curiosity and enjoyment of learning.

Pierre is an independent learner who will do well in a postgraduate situation. I fully expect him to excel in an environment where he is able to further develop his interest and expertise in the field of international business.

Sincerely,

Alison J Green BA(Hons), MEd, BEd
